Education and Classes

Education and Classes by Pc Computer Guy

PcComputerGuy offers several options for customers to learn all about everything from the basics such as Internet browsing and email to more advanced topics such as specific programs like Photoshop or Microsoft Access.

PcComputerGuy has taught larger groups and individuals.

For individuals, training will be done in the customer's home covering any specific topics requested. We recommended customers make a list of questions beforehand, so that so that all aspects may be covered.

For larger groups, PcComputerGuy will apply a "group rate."

Educational handouts/materials can be provided at the client's request.
